GUN TEARS HOLE THROUGH FARMER'S HAND

Henry Johnson, an Ethel farmer, had his right hand badly mangled, Sunday, by the discharge of an automatic shot gun. He was demonstrating how the gun worked, and laid it upon a table, putting his hand over the barrel. In closing the breech the shell was exploded, the charge passing directly through his hand.

Johnson was brought to Marcelline on No. 9, and taken to Mercy hospital where Dr. Putman amputated the hand, leaving the thumb and index finger which will probably be saved.

THE HOME OF GUS NOLL SOUTH OF DALTON DESTROYED BY FIRE

The 7-room on the farm of Gus Noll, about 6 miles south of Dalton, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday night of last week between 9 and 10 o'clock. A few articles of clothing and a few pieces of furniture were all that was saved.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is thought started in the kitchen. Mrs. Noll was the first to be awakened by the crackling of the fire and the smoke. The fire had made such headway that they scarcely had time to awaken the children, and to pick up whatever lay nearest them and escape.

The house valued at several thousand dollars was uninsured, the policy having lapsed a short time ago. The furniture and household goods valued at $1000 to $1200 were partially insured.

Mrs. Noll is now here at the home

In Missouri the deaths from tuberculosis have been reduced from 5113 in 1911 to 3010 in 1921.

HAD BETTER BE PICKING CORN—PAYS BETTER

M. G. Craig of Sumner was a caller at the Courier office Saturday. While here he kind of laughed at the plight of the bootlegger, exclaiming: "Those fellows had better be out hushing corn. It would pay them much better."

FROM NORTH BATTLEFORD, SASKATCHEWAN, CANADA

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and before it has become settled in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

At a meeting of the directors of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company held Tuesday, an assessment of 4 mills on the dollar was ordered. This is the highest rate of assessment that has been levied for several years, but all insurance companies, old as well as mutuals, suffered unusually heavy losses last year. But even at 4 mills policy holders in the mutual will have a big advantage over those of the old line. —Mendon Constitution.

A business man told the Leader editor in St. Louis, and by the way, he is a Republican, that 24 hours after the robbing tariff measure was signed by President Harding every large wholesale and retail dealer in the United States received telegrams and letters advancing the prices of everything men, women and children wear, many things they eat and work with. And this was done at a time when the people were demanding a reduction in prices. This stealing measure was enacted to pay back the manufacturers who put up the money to elect Harding president. The remedy is to elect a Democratic president and enough Democrats to gain control of both House and Congress. This is the only way to get rid of the tariff steal. Remember this—and two years hence work for all Democrats. —Sturgeon Leader.

Painted Tea Tray

This good-looking, home-made tea tray is only a shallow tin baking pan painted gray. Circular figures on the bottom make backgrounds for a number of things, in gay colors, that look like futuristic sun, moon and stars. At any rate, the tray is a vivid and cheerful affair that will be useful to the housewife.

Gifts for WOMEN

Three Gifts for Men

Small and unimportant gifts are the kind that make Christmas merry. Here are three of them that men will appreciate. They are an astounded gentleman, with painted face, made of a ball of twine and wearing a stiff white collar and tie of paper, a pair of painted and initialed shoes and a crocheted ash tray, fitted with a glass bottom.

Things That Men Like

Here is a decorative bag, of printed cotton challie 25 inches long and 17 inches wide. A scalloped edge turns up over a straight edge at the bottom and each scallop has a buttonhole, fastening over a glass button. The bag is supported by a coat hanger, faced at the top and bottom with plain challie and French knots made of heavy sephyr decorate it. Hung in the closet it makes a handy receptacle for rolled collars and handkerchiefs, which are thrust in at the top and fall out at the bottom when the bag is unbuttoned. Men like such conveniences.

To Frame Fair Faces

Every Christmas brings new breakfast caps. Here are three of them made of net, lace and ribbon in different shapes and decked with tiny ribbon flowers. Each has a short, elastic tape set in a casing across the back, to fit it to the head, and they are among the welcome gifts that can be made by their donors.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY AT CALLAO

It is believed that the Farmers' Bank and the Bank of Callao, would have been robbed Monday morning, about 2 o'clock had it not been for the burglar alarm which was set going by the raising of a side window of the Bank of Callao.

The police officers were notified by the night operator at the depot, who was the first to notice something was wrong.

Investigations showed that windows in the rear of both banks had been raised but the would be robbers evidently thought they were discovered and left without attempting to blow up the vaults or safes. —Atlantic Express, Mason County.

I shall meet my dear boy. I have read of the world of beauty where there is no gloomy night, where love is the mainspring of duty and God the fountain of light. Here's the work his feeble hands strove the last things to do. Mother's room is lonely now; once it was our bliss retreat; oft here on cheek and brow fell our kisses' sweet when our little family knelt around in prayer. It wrings our heart to see standing here his empty chair. Brother's gone a journey long. How we miss him none can tell for our love was true and strong, but the angels loved him well so one morn the summons came; earth recoiled from his view, all the joys of heaven he knew, forgot were his scars, 'neath the burning stars, his pain and his needed rest, while babe in his arms with her infant charms set light on an unhealed wound. —Salisbury Press-Spectator.
